3. FOREWORD BY THE MINISTER

Achievements in relation to policy directives and strategic outcome-related goals

Government, through the GCIS, remains committed to empowering South Africans with relevant information that enables them to access government services to improve the quality and standard of their lives. The GCIS has enthusiastically been fulfilling this strategic and legislative responsibility by producing and disseminating relevant information to the target audience. This was achieved against tight budgetary constraints; internally all staff had to cope with budget cuts and limitations while the external environment in which the department operated grew more demanding.

An increase in political activity and greater civil-society activism over a range of issues created a fast-moving and complex communication space. The sluggish economic growth, international ratings downgrade, higher unemployment and challenges around crime contributed to a difficult environment in which government communication had to function.

Through this heightened and challenging environment, the GCIS had to work much harder to ensure government's voice was prominent and that government campaigns were still effectively implemented.

Through our coordination of the Izimbizo outreach programme we ensured unmediated, face-to-face communication, which saw government officials and political principals interacting directly with the public to listen to their fundamental concerns, especially about service-delivery issues.

The department continues to build and to sustain partnerships with strategic stakeholders, including the media, in order to accentuate its mandate. During the period under review, the GCIS provided strategic leadership and communication support in the planning and implementation of major government campaigns across all clusters. This forms part of our major task in our broader endeavour to foster effective and efficient communication at all levels.

Through its provincial and district offices, the department has been able to assist national, provincial and local government principals in implementing a significant number of events. In addition to cluster media briefings, the department also facilitated media briefings on various campaigns and key issues.

The department's in-house media bulk-buying service has contributed to government achieving a significant saving on advertising costs.

The department's overall performance can be ascribed to the exceptional leadership of its management team, complemented by the spirit of dedication and cooperation that prevails among staff members.

Challenges for the financial year under review

Despite the acute limited financial and human-resource capacity, which are the two towering challenges hindering the department from fulfilling certain strategic objectives, the GCIS managed to accomplish its major communication objectives.

Another challenge facing the department is the aging equipment currently in use, especially Information Technology and audio-visual equipment, which would require a huge financial injection to replace.

The medium to long-term goals of the department

The GCIS will continue to be at the forefront of promoting nation-building and social cohesion, as part of the Ministry of Communications's mandate to implement Chapter 15 of the National Development Plan.

Through the use of communication products and platforms such as the fortnightly Vuk'uzenzele newspaper and the weekly My District Today newsletter to reach out to communities in the far-flung rural areas, the GCIS will ensure that the voice of government emerges loud and clear.

Thusong service centres, which are now in their 16th year of operation, will continue to play a crucial role in making life-changing information and services easily accessible to such communities.

We are purposefully geared to sustain the legislative and organisational obligation to disseminate much-needed information to communities in different parts of South Africa. We will continue to reach out to communities in villages, at taxi ranks, in shopping malls and throughout the length and breadth of our country.

Radio is one of the powerful communication tools that the GCIS uses to expressly engage with the public through numerous radio talk shows that are simulcast to community radio stations, thus enabling direct two-way engagement with millions of people. The recently introduced fortnightly Government At Work recordings aim to communicate smarter, better and faster, especially to appeal to the younger generations who access most of their government information on palm tops.

Once approved by Cabinet, the Government Communication Policy will help establish norms and standards to professionalise and strengthen the government communication system to ensure that it is well-integrated, better coordinated and professional, and allows for citizens to interact with government.

Acknowledgements/Appreciation

I would like to express my profound appreciation to the management and staff of the GCIS for their individual and collective contributions to the organisation's overall performance and remarkable achievements. At the same time, I acknowledge the distinctive contributions made by our predecessors – Minister Faith Muthambi and Deputy Minister Stella Ndabeni-Abrahams – to the department's performance during the period under review.

Conclusion

I am proud of the work that the GCIS has achieved during the period under review and foresee an even better performance ahead, as we strive to promote government campaigns and implement policies to move South Africa forward.

4. DEPUTY MINISTER'S STATEMENT

Activities and highlights of the department for the financial year under review

Effective and cost-efficient communication remains the backbone of government's mandate to keep the public adequately informed about, among other things, its plans, policies and campaigns.

During the period under review, the GCIS managed to live up to and even surpassed its mandate to empower citizens with timeous and accurate information to help improve their lives.

This was achieved against limited financial resources and within a difficult external environment in which government communications had to operate. The heightened political activity and greater civil society activism created a more complex communication space.

Moreover, the rise in unemployment, economic recession, international ratings downgrade and challenges around crime had also contributed to a difficult communication environment.

The demanding communication environment, current deficiency in staff capacity and strained financial resources have not deterred the GCIS from its passionate drive to deliver an excellent performance and subsequently achieve a clean audit. The 2015/16 unaudited annual financial statements were submitted to National Treasury and the Auditor-General of South Africa (AGSA) on time, for which the AGSA issued yet another clean-audit report.

On the communication front, the department has sustained its legacy of bringing government information and services closer to communities. A considerable number of publicising activities were held to promote the use of integrated mobile units and increase the visibility of Thusong service centres, which serve as a connection between communities and government services.

The GCIS has strengthened its strategic engagements with members of the media to establish and reinforce relations, which would inevitably ensure that government messages are articulated as efficiently and extensively as possible. During the period under review, the department provided communication support to, amongst others, the Local Government Elections, SADC Media Awards, Izimbizo Programme, SoNA, Fort Hare Centenary and the International AIDS Conference.

The department has been coordinating and simplifying the Post-Cabinet statements, which are translated into all official languages and posted online, and the media briefings, which outline Cabinet decisions on key issues affecting the nation.

In order for the government to live up to its vision of being a caring and responsive government, the GCIS has played a central role in guiding the Imbizo Programme of government, which has yielded tangible successes. There has been a visible improvement in the number of aftercare or follow-up events, as part of upholding the Batho Pele principle of redress.

Publications such as the fortnightly Vuk'uzenzele newspaper and the weekly My District Today assist communities with information that helps them to change their lives for the better. By advertising Public Service vacant posts in the Vuk'uzenzele newspaper, the GCIS has also fulfilled the strategic objective of bringing job opportunities to all people, including those living in far-flung rural areas. The daily news bulletins of the SAnews agency and the social-media presence of government on Facebook, Twitter, Flickr and other online platforms continue to make a significant impact on the media landscape of the country.

In support of the government-wide cost-cutting measures, the GCIS's in-house media bulk-buying service has achieved its intended objective of saving government substantial advertising costs.

During the period under review, the department surpassed the targets of the performance indicators for Outcome 14 (a diverse, socially cohesive society with a common national identity) of government's 2014-2019 Medium Term Strategic Framework.

As a diligent department, the Human Resource (HR) Plan Implementation Report, Workplace Skills Plan and HR Development Implementation Plan were approved and implemented in line with the relevant legislative frameworks.

Acknowledgements/Appreciation

I would like to express my appreciation to the management of the GCIS and all employees in their various capacities for their laudable contribution to the outstanding performance of the department in the previous financial year.

As attested by past remarkable successes, the GCIS Team has once again demonstrated its unbridled tenacity to succeed against all odds.

Conclusion

The GCIS has achieved tremendous success in the past financial year and beyond, and it would undoubtedly sustain the distinctive effort to communicate effectively and efficiently with the public going forward.

5. REPORT OF THE ACCOUNTING OFFICER

Overview of the operations of the department

The GCIS welcomed the newly appointed Minister and Deputy Minister, Ms Ayanda Dlodlo (MP) and Ms Tandi Mahambehlala (MP), as the Executive Authority for the Ministry of Communications, which includes GCIS as one of its entities, on 30 March 2017. The new Executive Authority committed to delivering on the mandate of the GCIS which, is to provide strategic leadership in government.

The media and communication environment form a critical part of the service-delivery environment of the GCIS and has over the financial year been volatile with activity. Issues over the reporting period focused on an upsurge in political activity and increased activism by civil-society organisations over a range of issues. Through this heightened political activity, government communicators had to work much harder to ensure that government's voice was prominent in the media and its campaigns were effectively implemented. In responding to the communication and media environment, daily Rapid Response meetings were held to assess the media environment and produce the recommendations for either a proactive or reactive communication approach.

All 22 Vuk'uzenzele editions produced were published on the GCIS website and on the Vuk'uzenzele mobile app. In addition, Vuk'uzenzele has in the 2016/17 financial year through the sale of advertising space raised R3 446 135.16, of which R3 375 175.00 was paid into the National Revenue Fund (NRF). In turn National Treasury allocated R3.1 million to the GCIS to print additional copies. This amount made it possible for the GCIS to increase the print run of the last three editions for the year, namely February second edition and two March editions. Instead of the normal 850 000 copies per edition, each of these three editions had a print run of 1.732 million copies. Therefore the R3.1 million covered the printing and distribution costs of additional 2.646 million copies.

During the 2016/17 financial year, the GCIS continued to achieve 96% of the targets set in the Annual Performance Plan (APP). This is as a result of innovative and new approaches in approaching the work of government communications.

Overview of the financial results of the department

The GCIS was initially allocated R382.156 million for the 2016/17 financial year. The original appropriation increased with R3.1 million to R385.256 million during the Adjusted Estimates of National Expenditure (AENE). The additional funds were appropriated as self-financing expenditure which would be raised through other government departments' participation in procuring advertising space in the monthly Vuk'uzenzele newspaper to advertise vacant posts.

Of the allocated budget, the GCIS spent R380.130 million (98.7%), resulting in an underspending of around R5.126 million (1.3%). The savings within Compensation of Employees (which is an earmarked budget as per the Appropriation Act) at year-end are attributed to vacancies in the three programmes as well as secondment of staff to other departments who refunded the GCIS for salaries and related cost.

The carry-through effect of budget reductions in previous financial years with subsequent budget reprioritisation, together with the lease contract of office accommodation that increased higher than inflation related budget adjustments, resulted in the department approaching National Treasury to support its request to use projected savings in the budget of Compensation of Employees to fund the projected deficit in the operational budget. On both occasions National Treasury rejected the department's request due to the fact that savings within the budget of Compensation of Employees at the end of the financial year should be surrendered to the NRF to reduce the overall fiscal deficit. The savings in Compensation of Employees would also contribute to the reduction of the overall personnel bill of the Public Service.

Funds were also shifted between programmes before and after the adjustments budget. In order to curb a budget deficit in Programme 1: Administration and to prevent unauthorised expenditure, a virement had to be applied from the operational budgets of Programme 2: Content Processing and Dissemination (R2.55 million) as well as Programme 3: Intergovernmental Coordination and Stakeholder Management (R2.33 million) to Programme 1: Administration. This resulted in certain departmental activities having to be scaled down or cancelled.

The GCIS continues to adhere to sound financial management principles as stipulated in the Public Finance Management Act (PFMA), 1999 (Act 1 of 1999), and National Treasury Regulations. To ensure that the GCIS maintains sound financial governance that is client-focused and responsive to the overall operating environment, the financial policies are reviewed annually to ensure that they still comply with the PFMA of 1999, National Treasury prescripts, including Treasury Instructions regarding general cost containment measures and subsistence and travel. Financial policies and related amendments are made available to all GCIS staff. In between, financial circulars were issued to staff from time to time as guided by National Treasury and the Department of Public Service and Administration (DPSA) prescripts.

Departmental receipts

Depart- mental receipts	2016/17			2015/16
	Estimate	Actual Amount Col- lected	(Over)/ Under Collec- tion	Estimate	Actual Amount Col- lected	(Over)/ Under Collection
	R'000	R'000	R'000	R'000	R'000	R'000
Sale of goods and services other than capital assets	3,359	3,391	(32)	272	3,538	(3,266)
Interest, dividends and rent on land	264	255	9	240	224	16
Sale of capital assets	-	7	(7)	-	-	-
Financial transactions in assets and liabilities	396	342	54	534	441	93
TOTAL	4,019	3,995	24	1,046	4,203	(3,157)

The GCIS produces various information products, including posters, banners, photos and videos. Some of these photos and videos are sold to the public and other departments. The department also provides graphic-design services to government departments and for GCIS-initiated projects. Tariffs are developed after determining the direct costs linked to the production of information products. Tariffs make no provision for a profit margin.

Revenue is also generated from monthly parking deductions made from staff salaries who use parking facilities within the office buildings, commission in respect of insurance deductions from staff salaries and payment thereof to service providers as well as interest generated in the department's bank account and interest-bearing debt by former employees. All income generated is deposited monthly into the NRF.

The projected revenue of R4.019 million was under-recovered with R24 000, resulting in total revenue collected of R3.995 million. The under-recovery is attributed to lower debt recovery than projected.

Included in "Sale of goods and services other than capital assets" is revenue collection of R3.148 million against the projected amount of R3.1 million in respect of the sale of advertising space of vacant posts in the Vuk'uzenzele newspaper. The over-recovery of R48 000 is attributed to higher sales of advertising space than projected.

Other revenue collected amount to R847 000 of which R32 000 was as a result of the sales of GCIS products such as photos and videos, parking fees (R136 000) as well as commission on insurance and garnishee deductions (R75 000). Revenue collected in respect of interest amount to R255 000 and R7 000 was collected in respect of the sale of a capital asset. A further R342 000 was generated in respect of financial transactions in assets and liabilities by recovering debt of previous financial years.

Programme Expenditure

The 2016/17 spending trend per programme is as follows:

Programme Name	2016/17			2015/16
	Final Appropriation	Actual Expenditure	(Over)/Under Expenditure	Final Appropriation	Actual Expenditure	(Over)/Under Expenditure
	R'000	R'000	R'000	R'000	R'000	R'000
1 Administration	149,394	147,359	2,035	144,921	144,920	1
2 Content Processing and Dissemination	135,030	134,830	200	127,088	126,854	234
3 Intergovernmental Coordination and Stakeholder Management	100,832	97,941	2,891	93,467	93,467	-
TOTAL	385,256	380,130	5,126	365,476	365,241	235

The GCIS spent 98.7% of its allocated budget and realised a nett saving of approximately R5.126 million (1.3%) in 2016/17. The underspending relates to vacant posts. The appropriation for Compensation of Employees was specifically and exclusively appropriated in the Appropriation Act, resulting therein that the budget for compensation of employees may not be used for any other purpose. Notwithstanding the saving in Compensation of Employees, the department experienced funding pressures within the operational budget. In order to prevent excessive expenditure in the operational budget of Programme 1: Administration, the department reprioritised the activities of Programme 2: Content Processing and Dissemination and Programme 3: Intergovernmental Coordination and Stakeholder Management by shifting around R4.8 million to Programme 1. This resulted in 99.98% of the operational budget being spent.

In 2015/16, the department spent 99.9% of its allocated budget and realised a nett saving of approximately R235 000 (0.1%). The underspending relates to Compensation of Employees in Programme 2 of which a Senior Manager is seconded to The Presidency who refunds the salary and related costs to the GCIS. Although the department applied reprioritization and cost-containment measures, funds had to be shifted between programmes to fund projected deficits. The maximum limit of utilisation of savings of main divisions of 8%, as prescribed by Section 43 of the PFMA of 1999, was reached with Programme 2: Content Processing and Dissemination, hence not all the available funds could be used to fund expenditure.

Virement/rollovers

No rollovers were requested from the 2015/16 to the 2016/17 financial years. The following table reflects additional appropriation and virement that was applied through the adjustments budget process:

Main division	Original budget	Virement	Additional appropriation (Self-financing expenditure)	Adjusted Estimates of National Expenditure (ENE)
	R'000	R'000	R'000	R'000
1. Administration	143,064	1,169	-	144,233
2. Content Processing and Dissemination	133,608	(608)	3,100	136,100
3. Intergovernmental Coordination and Stakeholder Management	105,484	(561)	-	104,923
TOTAL	382,156	-	3,100	385,256

The additional appropriation of R3.1 million was allocated as self-financing expenditure in respect of projected revenue that the department would recover due to the sale of advertising space for vacant posts of departments in the Vukuzenzele newspaper.

The virement of R1.169 million with which the appropriation of Programme 1: Administration was increased relates to the centralisation of the training budget within Programme 1. In order to ensure that the training budget is allocated and used in accordance with the determination by the DPSA, it was decided that the Chief-Directorate: Human Resources will coordinate the budget in line with the training needs of staff within all three programmes. The Goods and Services economic classification of expenditure was affected by the virement in all Programmes.

The following virement was applied after the AENE:

Main division	Adjusted ENE (R'000)	Virement (R'000)	Final appropriation (R'000)
1. Administration	144,233	5,161	149,394
2. Content Processing and Dissemination	136,100	(1,070)	135,030
3. Intergovernmental Coordination and Stakeholder Management	104,923	(4,091)	100,832
TOTAL	385,256	-	385,256

The increase in Programme 1: Administration is due to funds that were shifted from Programme 2: Content Processing and Dissemination and Programme 3: Intergovernmental Coordination and Stakeholder Management to fund the projected deficits in Information Management and Technology as well as Facilities Management due to contractual obligations.

The majority of the funds were shifted within the Goods and Services economic classification of expenditure. The nett result of the above virement had the following effect on the economic classification of expenditure:

- R1.163 million was shifted from Compensation of Employees to Transfers and Subsidies to fund leave discounting and leave gratuity due to officials who retired, resigned or died;
- R756 000 was shifted from Goods and Services to Payments for Capital Assets to fund the procurements of capital assets.

Future plans of the department

The department will produce the Media Landscape booklet which provides an assessment of the changes in the media environment – ownership and diversity – where different writers who work within the media environment contribute chapters that bring on developments and dialogues from the dynamic and complex media environment. The Media Landscape is published every three years. Therefore it will be published during the 2017/18 financial year.

Public-Private Partnerships (PPP)

The GCIS did not enter into any PPP agreement.

Discontinued activities / activities to be discontinued

No activities were discontinued during the financial year.

New or proposed activities

No new activities were proposed.

Supply Chain Management (SCM)

The department did not procure any goods or services from unsolicited bids for the year under review. The department has a policy on irregular and wasteful expenditure. Internal controls are also reviewed and policies adjusted to prevent irregular expenditure.

Two cases of irregular expenditure to the value of R115 000 occurred as at 31 March 2017. One case is still under investigation while the other has been condoned by the Acting Accounting Officer. Disciplinary action was taken against the relevant official. The department will continue to monitor and review its procurement and internal processes.

Gifts and Donations received in kind from non-related parties

During the 2016/17 financial year, the GCIS received in-kind gifts, donations and sponsorships from non-related parties to the value of approximately R144 000 of which the highest was a sponsorship of R65 000 in respect of the venue, catering and décor for the Forum of the Public Sector Manager (PSM) magazine. Refer to Annexures 1C and 1D for full disclosure of gifts, donations and sponsorships received and made.

Exemptions and deviations received from National Treasury

The department did not apply or receive any exemption from National Treasury in respect of the PFMA of 1999, Treasury Regulations or deviation from the financial reporting requirements in respect of the current and/or previous financial year.

Events after the reporting date

In March 2016 the High Court made a ruling that an alleged contract between the GCIS and a service provider for implementation of the Census 2011 Communication Campaign was invalid, and therefore, set aside. The High Court ruling brought to an end a protracted legal dispute that arose in 2012. On 29 June 2017 GCIS received a letter from Statistics SA enquiring about progress made to recover the amount of R7.762 million from third parties with a view that the GCIS will use the funds to settle its debt with Statistics SA. The GCIS is currently seeking a legal opinion with a view to make a determination that will be legally sound and cost-effective in resolving this matter.

A claim of R20 million was instituted in the North Gauteng High Court in respect of a copyright matter.

A disciplinary hearing is in progress against an employee of which the estimated legal cost amount to R250 000.

Other

In accordance with a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) that was signed by both ADGs of GCIS and DoC, officials from the GCIS rendered Corporate Service functions to the DoC in accordance with the MoU. These Corporate Services functions included all areas of SCM, Information Technology (IT), Internal Audit, and Facilities Management which entailed office accommodation, security as well as asset management. Human Resource Management (HRM)functions relating to appointments, transfers and resignations were provided to DoC for period 1 April 2016 – 31 August 2016.

In certain aspects, the arrangements in accordance with the MoU continues until 31 March 2018 (2017/18 financial year) or until such time that DoC can function independently if earlier than the expiry date. These functions include internal audit, petty cash, which entail daily reconciliation and safekeeping of cash; switchboard functions; administration of the logistics management system (Logis); asset management which entails the maintenance of the departmental asset register, including the verification of assets. In addition the GCIS has allowed the DoC to use its assets to the value of R1.619 million. The DoC will provide legal support to the GCIS.

Acknowledgement/s or Appreciation

I would like express my appreciation to the Executive Authority for their leadership and support during the 2016/17 financial year. I further wish to express my sincere gratitude to the management and staff of the GCIS for ensuring our clean audit status is maintained in the financial year under review.

Conclusion

It is imperative for the GCIS to move South Africa forward by carrying out its communication mandate with renewed confidence and an inspired commitment to make a difference in people's lives. The department used available products and platforms to meet its mandate of informing South African citizens of government's programmes and policies; achieving more than 90% of its planned targets/plans, despite the constrained fiscus.

2. OVERVIEW OF DEPARTMENTAL PERFORMANCE

2.1 Service-delivery environment

The media and communication environment forms a critical part of the service-delivery environment of the GCIS and has over the financial year been fraught with activity. Issues over the reporting period focused on an upsurge in political activity and increased activism by civil-society organisations over a range of issues. It led to a fast moving and complex communication environment, with rapidly changing media reporting on new and developing issues. Through this heightened political activity, government communicators had to work much harder to ensure that government's voice was prominent in the media and its campaigns were effectively implemented.

In pursuit of its vision of building partnerships with strategic stakeholders, the department increased its engagement with its media partners and held 61 engagements, which was an increase of 40 engagements from the 21 held during the 2015/16 financial year. In responding to the communication and media environment, the daily rapid response meetings were held to assess the media environment and produce recommendations for either a proactive or reactive communication approach. They also produced biweekly rapid response reports for the Minister.

The GCIS has a communication priority of disseminating information that empowers the general public to participate in government programmes. A total of 38 editions of communication products were published to meet the information needs of different target audiences. These included Vuk'uzenzele, the fortnightly government-owned newspaper that is distributed for free, mainly in areas with less access to the mainstream media. It is partly published in all 11 official languages and in Braille. Its information focuses on government's key priorities, including employment issues, youth matters, service delivery and rural development. During the 2016/17 financial year, a total of 21.346 million copies of the newspaper and 7 800 Braille copies were distributed. Additional 2.646 million copies were published instead of 18.7 million copies as planned.

Eleven editions (totalling 209 000 copies) of the PSM magazine were produced during the period under review. The magazine aims to meet the communication and information needs of public-sector managers. In addition, four editions (totalling 76 000 copies) of GovComms – a quarterly newsletter for government and public sector communicators, and a supplement to the PSM magazine – were produced. Furthermore, both the South Africa Yearbook (SAYB) and Pocket Guide to South Africa 2015/16 were published as planned.

Government's ability to communicate effectively, and in an integrated and disciplined manner, depends on an efficient government communication system. The system continues to improve in terms of coordination and ensures integrated planning and implementation around the government communication priorities. This is evidenced in the work of the clusters, where five 2016/17 Government Communication Programmes (GCPs) were developed and 50 progress reports on its implementation were presented to the DGs' Cluster.

Furthermore, 44 communication strategies for campaigns were developed together with lead departments to popularise government messages. Four strategic engagements with government communicators were held during the year under review to improve the coherence and alignment of government messages. In addition, the Web Content and Social Media, and the Audio-Visual Forum managers' forums were held to share best practices on ensuring that government information is disseminated as widely as possible.

As the system continued to expand, building capacity and professionalism among communicators remained critical. Ten request-based communication-training sessions for government departments and municipal communicators were conducted. The GCIS provincial and local liaison team conducted councillor induction sessions in some municipalities to equip them with communication skills and techniques to communicate government messages. Together with Media24, the GCIS facilitated the Apex Leadership and Digital Publishing training programmes. These year-long programmes were meant to enhance the GCIS communicators' communication and leadership skills.

During the reporting period, the GCIS prioritised the promotion of awareness and engagement with institutions and programmes on continental and regional integration and development. This included raising public awareness of developments regarding the African Union and its institutions, and the Southern African Development Community (SADC).

The outreach programme of the department has demonstrated the value of unmediated, face-to-face communication where government officials interact directly with the public. A total of 4 521 outreach campaigns were implemented against the planned target of 3 486. These included the 2 127 community and stakeholder liaison visits, 555 marketing events for the Thusong Programme and 1 839 development communication activations.

Information was delivered through channels such as community radio talk shows; taxi ranks and malls activations; blitzes on commuter trains in partnership with the Passenger Rail Agency of South Africa (PRASA); talk shows at local community radio and television stations; open days, especially at Thusong service centres; dialogues; door-to-door/household visits, and project walkabouts and inspections.

The campaign to distribute government messages reached over 53 million people (some of them being repeat audiences). A total of 555 Thusong marketing events were held to intensify the use of integrated mobile units and increase the visibility of Thusong service centres, which serviced 7 527 486 people during the 2016/17 financial year.

The GCIS's in-house media bulk-buying service is designed to save advertising costs for government while maintaining the visibility of government's communication campaigns. During the 2016/17 financial year, 332 media-buying campaigns were approved and implemented for various programmes and services. The cost of the advertising was R227 million.

2.3 Organisational environment

On 30 March 2017, the GCIS welcomed the newly appointed Minister Ayanda Dlodlo (MP) and Deputy Minister Tandi Mahambehlala (MP), as the Executive Authority for the Ministry of Communications, which includes the GCIS as one of its entities.

The GCIS comprises mostly employees between the ages of 20 to 39 years, who constitute 54.75% of the total establishment. In view of the fact that employees in the aforesaid age-group still aspire for career mobility, growth and development, intervention strategies in the form of retention, succession planning and career management have been developed to ensure that competent and talented staff are retained in the organisation. As a result of implementation of the departmental retention strategy, a total of 19 employees were promoted within the department during the period under review. One employee was promoted to the Senior Management Service (SMS).

Africans were over-represented by 9%, which is 1% increase from 2015/16. Indians were underrepresented by 2% to reach the 5% target in line with the set demographics, while whites and coloureds are underrepresented by 5% and 2% respectively. The department has consequently implemented a targeted recruitment drive to achieve the underrepresented demographic targets. For example, line managers are encouraged to fill vacant posts in line with the Employment Equity (EE) Plan of the relevant unit(s) and much consideration is given to underrepresented areas. Furthermore, the department ensures that job adverts reflect the requirements of underrepresented area(s) in order to attract targeted groups. The EE targets of the branch are sent to managers monthly, and are used during the recruitment and selection processes.

Despite the SMS vacancies and number of people in acting posts, the GCIS has demonstrated strong leadership and organisational harmony. This is partly due to the GCIS team having a long history of working together, with willingness to work across programmes and chief directorates. Despite the staff turnover, the department has maintained a vacancy rate below the legislated 10% throughout the year.

Individual personal development plans (PDPs) were analysed and the Workplace Skills Plan (WSP) compiled and submitted to the Public Service Sector Education and Training Authority (PSETA). The department continued to award bursaries during the 2016/17 financial year and 39 new bursary applications were approved and the total number of bursaries holders is 52 and seven employees completed their studies during the 2016 academic year. The department continued to implement the internship and Work Integrated Learning (WIL) youth development programmes. During the 2016/17 financial year, 22 interns and 20 WIL learners were appointed. The internship programme focused on addressing the skills challenges in the core business of the organisation while the WIL learners' programmes focused more on the generic and support services of the department.

The 2015/16 unaudited AFS were submitted to National Treasury and the AGSA not later than the legislated date of 31 May 2016, for which the AGSA issued yet another a clean-audit report. The procurement and demand plan for the department were developed and submitted timeously to National Treasury. In addition, the sourcing strategy was developed for goods and services. The procurement of goods and services was rendered successfully, including facilitating media-buying transactions on behalf of government client departments and entities.

The GCIS spent R380.1 million (98.7%) of its allocated budget of R385.2 million in 2016/17. It generated R3.995 million in revenue during the 2016/17 financial year from a variety of sources, including the sale of advertising space for the advertisement of Public Service vacant posts in the Vuk'uzenzele newspaper and the sale of products such as photos, videos and other communication material. Apart from the areas that were affected by the lack of funding, the GCIS largely met and exceeded targets stated in the APP 2016/17.

2.4 Key policy development and legislative changes

None

3. STRATEGIC OUTCOME-ORIENTED GOALS

The GCIS has three strategic outcome-oriented goals in support of the departmental mandate:

- A responsive, cost-effective, compliant and business-focused organisation.
- Professionalise the communication system by building a reliable knowledge base and through communication products.
- Maintain and strengthen a well-functioning communication system that proactively informs and engages the public.

The GCIS, a transversal strategic communication organisation, provides strategic communication support to the implementation of government's 14 outcomes. However, the department is responsible for delivering on Outcome 14 (Nation-building and social cohesion).

Outcome 14: Nation-building and Social Cohesion

Sub-outcome 4: Promoting active citizenry and leadership

Performance indicators	2016/17 Target	2016/17 Achievement
Number of community and stakeholder liaison visits undertaken	1 800	2 127

Number of reports on post-Cabinet media briefings and/or statements issued after ordinary Cabinet meetings	18	14 post-Cabinet media briefings were held and 19 statements issued

Number of marketing events per Thusong Service Centre	486	555
Number of copies of Vuk'uzenzele newspaper published	21 editions	22 editions
Number of media briefing requests per year	100	128

The National Development Plan (NDP) emphasises the need to unite all South Africans around a common goal, ensure citizens are active in their own development, and build a capable and developmental state. This goal is expressed in Outcome 14 (a diverse, socially cohesive society with a common national identity) of government's 2014-2019 MTSF. To support the realisation of this Outcome, the GCIS identified seven performance indicators to support it. During the period under review, the organisation exceeded the targets for the outcome indicators. A total of 4 521 outreach communication campaigns were implemented to facilitate active citizen participation in government programmes. More than one million people were reached per month.

Radio provides a platform for a two-way interaction with audiences. A total of 299 radio products and services were provided, of which 60 were phone-in programmes for participations to engage in their local languages, seven live link-ups, 21 radio adverts and 211 recordings of government projects. A total of 22 editions of Vuk'uzenzele newspaper were published, and 21.346 million copies of the newspaper in all official languages and 7 800 Braille copies were distributed.

4. PERFORMANCE INFORMATION BY PROGRAMME

4.1 Programme 1: Administration

Purpose: Provide overall management and support for the department.

Subprogrammes

The programme's functions are organised into the following five subprogrammes:

- Strategic Management is responsible for the development and implementation of strategic management processes, procedures and systems in compliance with relevant legislation. These include the coordination of strategic planning, performance monitoring and reporting, and risk management for the department.
- HR is responsible for strategic leadership in the implementation of the department's HR management strategy.
- Information Management and Technology (IM&T) is responsible for the establishment and support of IM&T systems in the GCIS.
- The Chief Financial Officer provides the department with overall financial and SCM, auxiliary services, and guides management in complying with legislative requirements, budget planning and administration.
- Internal Audit improves risk management, control and governance processes.

Strategic objective:

Provide adequate and effective Corporate Services functions in pursuit of good governance.

Key achievements and challenges

Subprogramme: Strategic Management

Key achievements

The department complied with National Treasury frameworks by reviewing and tabling the 2017/18-2019/20 APP in Parliament during the 2016/17 financial year. It also compiled and submitted the four quarterly performance reports and to the Executive Authority, Department of Planning, Monitoring and Evaluation (DPME) and National Treasury within the legislated time frames.

The portfolio of evidence was audited quarterly against the reported achievements and contributed to a clean audit on performance information maintained from 2014/15. Furthermore, the 2015/16 Annual Report was tabled in Parliament during September 2016.

During the 2016/17 financial year, the GCIS had an approved risk management framework with implementation plans, and a risk register comprising the strategic, operational and fraud and corruption risks. It reviewed the registers, and monitored and reported quarterly to the Management Committee (Manco) and the Audit and Risk Committee (ARC) on all the 42 risks. During the financial year, Manco approved the establishment of a Risk Management Committee by an External Chairperson. The committee was still being established by the end of the financial year.

Challenges

The department has a challenge of evaluating the impact of government communication programmes due to lack of capacity within the chief directorate. It has also not identified implementation programmes, which were a new requirement for the Management Performance Assessment Tool (MPAT). This led the department receiving a low score on the evaluation and implementation programmes for the MPAT.

The department is gradually increasing its score on the development and implementation of service-delivery mechanisms which were previously also scored very low. A community survey was held with various stakeholders and across the nine provinces to test stakeholder satisfaction with government information, products and platforms. To ensure service-delivery improvement, Manco has set up a team to undertake ongoing and continuous improvement of this work.

Subprogramme: Human Resource Management

Key achievements

The HR Plan (HRP) Implementation Report was approved and submitted in line with the relevant legislative frameworks. The directorate received a positive feedback on the outcome of assessments by DPSA with a score of 68%. Targets for submission of performance agreements were exceeded during the 2015/16 financial year.

Rewards for 2015/16 annual assessments were implemented two months before the legislated time frame as per the Public Service Regulations (PSR), 2016.

The vacancy rate was kept under the legislated percentage (10%) throughout the financial year. On average it was kept at 8%. The EE report was submitted to the Department of Labour a month before the legislated time frame. HR policies were reviewed in line with the PSR, 2016 and approved.

The WSP and HR Development (HRD) Implementation Plan were approved and implemented in line with the relevant legislative framework. Employees attended training on short courses aligned to their PDPs. For long-term career pathing, bursaries were also awarded to employees who applied. To enhance the managerial skills of both middle and senior managers, managers attended management development programmes. The department implemented youth development programmes which included internship and WIL from Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) colleges funded by the PSETA through their discretionary grants.

The department continued to offer 24/7/365 counselling services to employees and their immediate family members. Health screenings – including tuberculosis (TB) and HIV Counselling and Testing (HCT) is conducted to encourage employees to know their status. The implementation of reasonable accommodation for Employees with Disabilities (EWD) and gender mainstreaming was done in line with the legislative framework.

EWD who cannot access public transport receive a monthly transport allowance. The GCIS contributes 15% towards the procurement of assistive devices for EWD and 100% for maintenance. To ensure their smooth reintegration to the workplace, women are granted half days for two weeks after their return from maternity leave.

Challenges

Owing to budgetary constraints, the training budget has decreased below 1% of the personnel budget. This has a negative effect to training and development since employees can only attend no more than two interventions. The department has not yet attained 50% target in employing women at SMS level. The department has also fell short of meeting its 2% target for EWD due to the resignation of EWD.

The EE targets were not met due to lack of applications from designated groups. The department has introduced targeted recruitment and has formed partnerships with external stakeholders to address the challenge. There is lack of capacity within the Directorate: HRM to meet the organisational demands.

Subprogramme: Information Management and Technology

Key achievement

The subprogramme continued to ensure that the IT infrastructure and Information Management (IM) systems were maintained and available with an uptime of above 95%. Initiatives and measures were implemented to address the emerging cybersecurity risks and threats in the environment. Annual enterprise licences for electronic office software and security software were renewed.

IM systems were also maintained and supported with improvements made to the organisational performance reporting systems. An electronic Employee Performance Management and Development System (EPMDS) was developed and tested for implementation in the next employee performance cycle.

Challenges

The subprogramme is still constrained by the fiscal environment with a low budget. Upgrades to the network and Internet lines needed to improve network speed and performance could not be done due to the lack of available funds. The subprogramme was unable to undertake any projects to refresh end-of-life infrastructure in the environment.

Subprogramme: Finance, Supply Chain Management and Auxiliary Services

Key achievements

The chief directorate achieved phenomenal outcomes during the 2016/17 financial year. Operating under the Vote 3 of the Department of Communications (DoC), the GCIS received its funding from the fiscus through Vote 3. It continued to assist the DoC at a decreasing level, as per the MoU reached between the two departments at the inception of the DoC. The DoC is now at an advanced stage of building its financial management capacity, which allowed the GCIS to hand over a significant majority of functions.

Despite a staff shortage and high workload, some targets were achieved in line with plans. All regulatory deadlines as regulated by National Treasury and the PFMA of 1999 and other prescripts were met alongside procuring prudently and confining expenditure within available means. The GCIS complied with all National Treasury requirements in the formulation and submission of the 2017 Medium Term Expenditure Framework (MTEF).

The 2015/16 unaudited AFS were submitted to National Treasury and the AGSA not later than the legislated date of 31 May 2016, for which the AGSA issued yet another a clean-audit report. The chief directorate supported Manco and various governance committees. The procurement and demand plan for the department were developed and submitted timeously to National Treasury. The procurement plans were monitored consistently throughout the financial year. In addition, the sourcing strategy was developed for goods and services. The unit successfully rendered procurement of goods and services, including facilitating media-buying transactions on behalf of government client departments and entities. Media-buying transactions for the 2016/17 financial year were worth R227 million.

The internal control system continues to respond to risks identified, hence the sustained clean-audit report as reported above. This includes continuous updating and formulation of policies, embarking on awareness programmes and ensuring that there is consequence management where wrongdoing or negligence occurs. Generally, payments are effected within the regulated 30 days after receipt of invoices. All assets are well secured and managed. Staff continues to work in an office space that is enabling, healthy and convenient.

Challenges

Although the chief directorate achieved all its targets for the year under review, pressure was however experienced during the financial year. Staff shortage, work pressure and high workload continue to impact on service delivery, turnaround times, and also increase the risk of making errors. The limited budget continues to restrict the GCIS's ability to render its communication-related services optimally to South Africans.

Subprogramme: Internal Audit

Key achievements

Internal Audit has the primary responsibility of ensuring that the system of governance, risk management and control is designed to ensure that the GCIS's strategic goals and objectives will be achieved.

During the period under review, the unit reviewed its plans and charters for consideration and approval by the Management and Audit Committee aligned to the GCIS enterprise-wide risk assessment register. The unit ensured that the governance structures introduced to monitor the work of internal and external auditors (AGSA), and the management reports are reviewed regularly, and areas requiring attention are identified and monitored regularly.

The unit places a premium on the audits that contribute to positive external audit outcomes, and ensures the improvement of the GCIS's organisational performance and accountability. Key among these audits are Operational (review of implementation of the APP) Supply Chain and Expenditure Management, Information and Communications Technology (ICT), HR, as well as Quarterly and Annual Financial and Non-Financial Reporting. Refer to Section C: Governance of this Annual Report for detailed achievements.

Despite resource constraints, the unit continues to surpass its expectations by contributing to the clean external-audit outcomes, ensuring reliance on internal-audit work on ICTs by the AGSA, and contributing to the overall planning, implementation (including compliance) and reporting on the GCIS's predetermined objectives. During the year under review, the unit continued to assist the DoC with Internal Audit services, including assisting the DoC to achieve clean audit outcomes for the 2015/16 financial year and compliance (level 4) on MPAT on Internal Audit and Audit Committee key performance areas.

In pursuit of the GCIS mandate, the Internal Audit team has ensured that the department continues to empower the people with government information to be able to take advantage of available opportunities to better their lives.

Challenges

The Annual Operational Plan of the unit was successfully implemented, except for audits scheduled in March. Follow-up audits, which are linked to the unit's work, will form the basis of the review of the AFS and Annual Report (Performance Information) prior to submission of the statements and reports to the AGSA on the legislated date of 31 May each year. The outcomes of these March audits form the basis on financial year-end audit procedures to ensure that management reports are stated fairly, informed by among others, the progress made in implementing audit recommendations.

The continued provision of internal-audit services to the under-resourced DoC places undue strain on GCIS resources and has the potential over time to impact on the quality of the services.

Strategy to overcome areas of underperformance

Manco discussed and approved quarterly performance reports before they were submitted to National Treasury, DPME and the Executive Authority as a legislative requirement. Non-achieved and delayed targets from the previous quarters were updated by implementing corrective action plans and reports were regularly provided to Manco on these.

Changes to planned targets

There were no changes on the planned targets for the year under review.

The nett underspending realised mainly within Compensation of Employees that was specifically and exclusively appropriated, and which could not be used for any other purpose. The underspending is due to vacant posts that occurred during the 2016/17 financial year, and the period that lapsed to finalise interviews and verification processes before the posts could be filled.

4.2 Programme 2: Content Processing and Dissemination

Purpose: Provide strategic leadership in government communication to ensure coherence, coordination, consistency, quality, impact and responsiveness of government communication.

The programme's functions are organised into the following three subprogrammes:

- Products and Platforms develops content for the GCIS. Funding for the subprogramme is used for writing assignments; language services for products that require translation, editing and proofreading content; managing the development of government and departmental/provincial websites; and the production of government publications. The subprogramme is also responsible for the development of the government communication strategy.
- Policy and Research conducts research through independent service-providers to assess how government should address the public's information needs. It also monitors media coverage of issues affecting government and the country. It further provides an analysis on how the media interprets government policies and programmes; formulates policy proposals where it is required and assesses public perceptions in relation to government performance.
- Communication Service Agency (CSA) provides media bulk-buying services and media production services to government. It also develops distribution strategies for all government communications and oversees distribution services outsourced to service providers. The chief directorate manages national government's corporate identity. It further provides marketing and distribution services for the GCIS and other government departments.

Strategic objectives:

- Produce government communication products and provide services to grow the share of the voice of government messages in the public arena.
- Provide strategic leadership and support in government communication through public opinion research and analysis of media coverage to understand the communication environment and inform government messages.
- Provide efficient and effective communication services.

Key achievements and challenges

Subprogramme: Products and Platforms

Key achievements

GCIS products and platforms continue to empower the general public with much-needed information on government's programmes and policies. The GCIS updates the South African Government website (www.gov.za) daily with statements, documents and multimedia content. For the 2016/17 financial year, the website was used by 7,7 million users (5,2 million in the previous year) who viewed 21 million webpages (15 million in the previous year).

The South African Government social media accounts have also seen a significant growth in followers. By end of 2016, the Facebook page had 232 000 followers and the Twitter account 710 000. The GCIS also supported numerous departments to improve their use of digital communications technologies and amplify their campaigns.

Vuk'uzenzele, the government-owned newspaper, is distributed free of charge, with particular attention given to making it available in areas with less access to the mainstream media. It is partly published in all 11 official languages and in Braille. Its information is focused on government's key priorities, including employment issues, youth matters, service delivery and rural development. The newspaper has since September 2015 been featuring a message from President Jacob Zuma in every edition, and also paid government recruitment vacancies and other generic government campaigns. For the last financial year, a total of 21 346 million copies of the newspaper in all official languages and 7 800 Braille copies were distributed. Additional 2,646 million copies were published instead of 18,7 million, as per the APP.

All 22 editions were also published on the GCIS website and on the Vuk'uzenzele mobile app. The Vuk'uzenzele newspaper and PSM magazine Facebook and Twitter accounts are also growing steadily. These social-media accounts allow users to interact and share content more easily. On average per week the website has over 26 000 page impressions. The Vuk'uzenzele mobile app allows users to access the newspaper on smartphones, tablets and other mobile devices.

The Vuk-app is available on Google Play Store and Apple Store for download. During the period under review, the Vuk'uzenzele website page received 1 085 182 views and 3 225 likes of its stories on Facebook.

In addition, Vuk'uzenzele has in the 2016/17 financial year through the sale of advertising space raised R3 446 135.16, of which R3 375 175.00 was paid into the NRF. In turn, National Treasury allocated R3.1 million to the GCIS to cover the printing and distribution costs of additional 2.646 million copies. This amount made it possible for the GCIS to increase the print run of the last three editions for the year, namely February second edition and two March editions. Instead of the normal 850 000 copies per edition, each of these three editions had a print run of 1.732 million copies.

Eleven editions (totalling 209 000 copies) of PSM magazine were produced during the period under review. The magazine aims to meet the communication and information needs of public-sector managers. PSM magazine is self-sustaining as it generates sales and advertising revenue for its production. It is also available in a digital format. In addition, four editions (totalling 76 000 copies) of GovComms, a quarterly newsletter for government and public sector communicators and a supplement to the PSM magazine, were produced. Furthermore, four electronic Government Dialogue newsletters for public servants were published.

The chief directorate completed 1 672 requests for language services during the 2016/17 financial year, overachieving the annual target by 172 requests. Despite capacity challenges, both the SAYB and Pocket Guide to South Africa 2015/16 were published as planned. To prevent potential delays in the production of the 4 000 DVDs containing the content of the Pocket Guide to South Africa 2015/16 and 2016/17 editions respectively, a two-year production contract was signed with an audio-visual company.

The South African Government News Agency, SAnews.gov.za, published over 300 stories every month – with this going beyond as more critical programmes unfolded on the government programme. Many of these stories were published in the mainstream media and online web portals. At the end of March 2017 – the SAnews Twitter account (@SAnews) following was close to 100 000 followers – sitting at around 99 300.

The SAnews Twitter account has become the Flagship Twitter account in the organisation. Social media plans for GCIS-supported projects nearly always rely on live tweets from SAnews; while other accounts retweet SAnews.

Challenges

The lack of capacity and severe budget restrictions in the chief directorate had an impact on the ability to cover all government programmes.

Subprogramme: Policy and Research

Key achievements

The subprogramme produced a number of media content analysis reports on major issues in the environment, including the Local Government Elections, attacks on foreign nationals, energy issues, economy and the drought. Monitoring and evaluation of communications in the departments of Tourism and Small Business Development was also completed. There was an increased demand for the production of key messages spanning various topics and themes. Opinion pieces were also drafted on behalf of political principals for placement in the media. Furthermore, the subprogramme expanded its writing to cover not only opinion pieces, but also draft keynote addresses and other media content. In addition, it produced four Insight newsletters during the year under review.

Research support was consistently provided to guide communication planning by clusters and for key government communication campaigns such as the State of the Nation Address (SoNA), Women's Month, Youth Month, etc. Ten cluster reports and two Pulse of the Nation reports were produced during the 2016/17 financial year. Furthermore, a growing demand for advisory research reports on communication environment and key areas of performance by government and departments was observed. A total of 97 advisory research reports were produced during the 2016/17 financial year, which is an increase of 14 from the 83 produced during 2015/16.

Communication research support was provided by producing a research report for the Premiers' offices to inform planning and communication at that level. In addition, the Government Segmentation Model (GSM) has been introduced to government communicators and various research bodies. The demand for use of the GSM is growing and the GCIS is aligning its communication products with the GSM in order to generate relevant content for target audiences in the South African population.

The chief directorate has met with various stakeholders to discuss a wide range of topics, including what media transformation and diversity mean, how diversity can be measured, issues relating to media regulation, ownership as well as issues relating to community media. These discussions culminated in a Colloquium on Print Media Transformation where industry players debated and made recommendations on these issues.

Challenges

The chief directorate did not experience any challenges that impacted negatively on service delivery.

Subprogramme: Communication Service Agency

Key achievements

The CSA produced 60 radio talk shows that were transmitted on 65 community radio stations. It also produced 460 news bulletins that were transmitted to community radio stations. It provided photographic coverage of all major government activities, including those of The Presidency. These photographs were published in many newspapers. It has continued to monitor the correct use of the Corporate Identity of national government and has given feedback to government departments. The CSA has continued to run a graphic design service for departments and has produced over 472 graphic designs. During the 2016/17 financial year, the subprogramme facilitated the distribution of 21 346 000 million copies of Vuk'uzenzele newspaper.

The GCIS has continued to conduct media placement on behalf of government departments and their agencies. Particular attention has been given to placing advertising on community media, including print radio and television. A total of 333 media-buying campaigns were approved and implemented for various programmes and services during the 2016/17 financial year. The cost of the advertising was R227 million.

Challenges

There has been the challenge of lack of funding, aging equipment and an overstretched workforce due to the large number of projects.

Strategy to overcome areas of underperformance

Manco discussed and approved quarterly performance reports before they were submitted to National Treasury, DPME and the Executive Authority as a legislative requirement. Non-achieved and delayed targets from the previous quarters were updated by implementing corrective action plans and reports were regularly provided to Manco on these.

4.3 Programme 3: Intergovernmental Coordination and Stakeholder Management

Purpose: Implementation of development communication, through mediated and unmediated communication and sound stakeholder relations and partnerships.

Subprogrammes

The programme's functions are organised into the following subprogrammes:

- Cluster Communication provides strategic cluster communication advice, coordination and support to departments. It provides leadership on key cluster communication issues, as well as professional project management services for government communication campaigns.
- Provincial and Local Liaison ensures that the National Communication Strategy Framework (NCSF) is presented to the provinces for alignment. Funding will be used to procure various media channels, HR capacity, platforms and materials to promote government messages to the public at local levels. The subprogramme is also responsible for promoting the Thusong Service Centres to the public, as well as ensuring that government departments send different print products and materials to these centres. The subprogramme also coordinates the Izimbizo Programme of government.
- Media Engagement leads and drives interaction and communication between government and the media. Funding in this subprogramme will be used to ensure effective liaison between Ministers and the media; manage ongoing media liaison services to government by providing government information; establishing, strengthening and maintaining working relationships with foreign media and independent media; and establishing relations with South African missions with the view of disseminating government information and key targeted messages.

Strategic objectives:

- Improve interdepartmental coordination by joint planning and sharing of messages across the three spheres of government to ensure coherence and alignment of government messages.
- An informed and empowered citizenry on government's policies, plans, programmes and achievements to increase public participation in government.
- Implement a proactive and reactive media engagement system by building, maintaining and improving relations with the media and drive the government communication agenda.

Key achievements and challenges

Subprogramme: Clusters

Key achievements

Between April 2016 and March 2017, the GCIS provided strategic leadership and communication support in the planning and implementation of major government campaigns in each cluster. Annual communication programmes for clusters were developed and implemented in collaboration with the respective departments. Joint planning, sharing of resources and integration of efforts help to promote more efficient and cost-effective communication. The GCIS provided support to clusters and departments such as conceptualising campaigns, developing communication strategies/plans, content development, information dissemination, stakeholder engagement, internal communication, and coordinating government communications.

The clusters coordinated 11 cluster media briefings to inform the media, public and stakeholders of progress made in implementing government's PoA (MTSF 2014-2019). The GCIS video unit facilitated, recorded, edited and widely shared post cluster media briefing video messages through communicators and social media. These briefings reflected on progress made in implementing the pronouncements made during the SoNA. In addition to the cluster briefings, the department also facilitated media briefings on campaigns and key issues.

A range of communication opportunities were sourced and implemented to further amplify the achievements and good-news stories following the cluster media briefings, using various internal and external platforms. Some of the content on Cabinet decisions was translated into various official languages.

The GCIS also coordinated and achieved 10 request-based communication training sessions for government departments and municipal communicators. The GCIS Provincial and Local Liaison team conducted Councillor Induction sessions in some municipalities to equip them with communication techniques and skills to communicate government messages. A total of 54 sessions were held reaching around 1 500 attendees, which included community development workers (CDWs), municipal communicators, ward committees and councillors. Together with Media24, the GCIS facilitated the Apex Leadership and Management and Digital Publishing training programmes. These year-long programmes were aimed to enhance the GCIS communicators' knowledge and skills in communication and leadership.

The attendees of the Apex Leadership and Management programmes graduated in December 2016 and the Digital Publishing participants were by March 2017 still awaiting their certificates from the SETA, which is finalising their assessments. Higher Education institutions communication students and lecturers were also engaged where government communication information was shared with them to realise the linkage between acquired theory and the practical government work environment. This process led to them realising some communication gap between knowledge imparted and what is happening in the real work environment. In professionalising government communications, the GCIS was, in collaboration with UNISA, developing the Memorandum of Agreement for producing the Level 7 Communicators' course. This course aims to enable government communicators to sharpen their skills in the field of government communications.

Challenges

- Sourcing content and approval of content drafted by the GCIS from departments such as paragraphs, Q&As, factsheets and key messages remain a challenge with some departments. This leads to the late dissemination of products and information to stakeholders and communities.
- Some departments fail to submit their monthly progress reports on the implementation of their communication strategies.
- A gap still exists with implementing post-communication plans for programmes, especially international engagements, to ensure government sustains the message.
- Despite numerous attempts by some clusters to encourage communicators to attend communication forums and cluster meetings, attendance has been very poor.
- A commitment is needed to have cluster media briefings within a stipulated period or consider other communication platforms for providing updates to the public, to ensure impact. This matter has been raised through meetings, communiques and the DGs' Cluster.

Provincial and Local Liaison

Key achievements

Despite an ever-decreasing resource base, the GCIS has made significant strides in implementing development communication in the past year, with firm plans to enhance this service in the year ahead. Solid progress has also been made in maintaining and strengthening a well-functioning communication system that is a backbone in driving this information programme, including the fostering of sound stakeholder relationships and partnerships.

Through direct and unmediated communication engagements in the 2016/17 financial year, over 53 million people were reached with government messages

(some being repeat audiences). The GCIS implemented 1 839 communication activations, each of which was optimised by using supplementary and multiple communication platforms, including social media. Prominent GCIS outreach platforms include activations at taxi ranks and malls, and recently blitzes on commuter trains in partnership with PRASA; talk shows at local community radio and television stations; open days, especially at Thusong Service Centres; dialogues; door-to-door/household visits, and project walkabouts and inspections.

A major positive this past year has been the continued central and strategic role played by the GCIS in guiding the system-wide Imbizo programme of government. There has been a noteworthy improvement in reaching provinces under-visited in previous reports, including the Northern Cape. There has been a marked and significant improvement in the number of events which were aftercare or follow-up events. In this regard there is a clear indication that Izimbizo and the overall public participation programme is upholding the Batho Pele principle of redress and gives credence to a responsive government. The GCIS, particularly through its provincial and district offices, has been able to assist national, provincial and local government political principals in implementing over 252 events last year. This significant achievement bears witness to government's accountability and direct communication with citizens. This ensures that we continue to build a caring society where issues raised through such direct engagements are addressed and responded to, and government is immediate, accessible and transparent.

The GCIS has sustained and enhanced critical direct communication platforms, particularly through its provincial and district offices. The weekly editions of My District Today give expression to development communication by profiling government interventions and their socio-economic impact on ordinary citizens as beneficiaries of government programmes.

My District Today now reaches over 13 000 users from local and district municipalities; Thusong Service Centres; communicators; CDWs; provincial and district forums; civil society; business formations; government departments; the Parliamentary Office and constituencies, and is also available on the GCIS website. Nine of the 49 editions were customised editions in support of the National Imbizo Focus Week, 2016 Local Government Elections, the Annual Thusong Week, SoNA and NDP-focused Back-to-School Campaign in February 2017. While significantly reduced due to a declining personnel budget, the district presence of the GCIS had ensured that around 2 127 community and stakeholder liaison engagements/content work sessions took place last year, where information and content were shared with stakeholders.

The showcasing event of the Annual Thusong Service Centre Week was implemented in from 18-22 September 2016 during the Public Service Month. Recognition was given to public servants who adhered to the Batho Pele principles. The week coincided with the commemoration of Heritage Month under the Theme: Human Treasures and Legends: Our Living Heritage. The Annual Week was also celebrated in line with 20th Anniversary of the South African Constitution. The campaign also served to highlight progress made in the transformation of the country since the signing of the Constitution and to mobilise different stakeholders to participate in the promotion of constitutional rights.

The week comprised a series of multimedia events, including a Community Radio talk show, a showcasing Constitutional celebration event, outreach events and service-delivery blitzes. Key highlights for the week included the official opening of the Annual Thusong Week and 20th anniversary of the Constitution through the Let's Talk Justice Talk Show by the Deputy Minister of Justice and Correctional Services, Mr John Jeffery, MP.

This was followed by the showcasing event by the then Deputy Minister of Communications Ms Ndabeni-Abrahams at the Mossel Bay Thusong Centre in the Western Cape and the closing event at the Breyten Thusong Service Centre in Mpumalanga, where the best integrated mobile outreach typology of the Thusong Programme was showcased. Through creative partnerships, a total of 112 activities were implemented for the third annual week.

Through these events, an estimated total of 852 215 beneficiaries were reached. The foot traffic around the centres also increased and an estimated total of 50 beneficiaries were interviewed to obtain their views on how the centres had helped them and what could be done to improve service delivery within Thusong Service Centres.

Challenges

- While local community protests have many different causes, inadequate communication of successes and challenges by municipalities contributes to this contested local environment. The frontline/coalface service presence of the GCIS human capital continued to decrease in 2016/17.
- A limited budget has impacted on the scale and scope of development communication activations, narrowing the reach and scale of GCIS provincial and district offices.

Subprogramme: Media Engagement

Key achievements

The chief directorate held 47 strategic engagements with members of the media to establish and strengthen relations, and ensure that government messages are articulated effectively. These were in support of amongst others, the Local Government Elections, SADC Media Awards, Izimbizo Programme, SoNA, Fort Hare Centenary, International AIDS Conference and the communication of Cabinet decisions.

In support of communication of Cabinet decisions, a total of 14 post-Cabinet media briefings were held and 19 statements were issued. Communication of government messages was further enhanced through the placement of 65 opinion pieces on various print media platforms covering different topics pertaining to key government programmes. Through the Rapid Response early-warning system, 24 biweekly reports were produced to appraise the Minister, and 50 media statements responding to issues in the media environment were issued and covered by the media.

As part of Rapid Response recommendations and issues, the chief directorate established and managed operations rooms on key communication issues such as tertiary fees student protests, respond to drought, social grants payment and Local Government Elections.

Challenges

The lack of financial and HR continues to be a major challenge. The chief directorate was forced to cover a large amount of work whilst operating with a lesser number of staff members and financial resources than before

PART C: GOVERNANCE

1. INTRODUCTION

As required by the PFMA of 1999, the GCIS maintains an effective, efficient and transparent internal control system to ensure proper use of financial and other resources within the Accounting Officer's area of responsibility.

The GCIS is committed to the philosophy of effective risk management as a core managerial capability. It is our policy that, to fulfil the public's performance expectations and our strategic objectives as an organisation, we must pursue opportunities involving some degree of risk.

Our policy gives full and due consideration to the balance of risk and reward, as far as it is practically possible to optimise the rewards gained from our activities.

To this extent, the Batho Pele principles and Code of Conduct for the Public Service are central ethical standards upon which decisions are made in pursuit of the organisation's overarching mandate.

2. RISK MANAGEMENT

Risk management is a strategic imperative in the department to ensure that the department sets clear and realistic objectives, understands critical risks associated therewith and develops mitigation strategies to manage such risks. The department recognises the King III Report on Corporate Governance as best practice. It requires that the department should establish a risk management structure that will adequately identify, measure, monitor and control the risks involved in its various operations and lines of business. The department's risk management framework is in line with the PFMA of 1999, as amended; and the Public Sector Risk Management Framework (2010).

The GCIS Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) recognises that risks (including opportunities) are dynamic, often highly interdependent and ought not to be considered and managed in isolation. It is the application of risk management throughout the department, rather than only in selected business areas or disciplines. All organisations face uncertainty. ERM responds to this challenge by providing a methodology for managing department wide risks in a comprehensive and integrated way.

During the 2016/17 financial year, the department had an approved risk management framework with implementation plans, and a risk register comprising the strategic, operational and fraud and corruption risks. It reviewed the registers, monitored and reported to Manco and the ARC, on all the 42 risks quarterly. During the 2016/17 financial year, the GCIS Manco approved the establishment of a Risk Management Committee by an External Chairperson. The committee was still being established by the end of the financial year.

3. FRAUD AND CORRUPTION

The GCIS risk management policy and philosophy also focus on fraud prevention as a cornerstone for preventing fraud and corruption in the organisation. The department has an approved fraud prevention policy, strategy with an implementation plan, the whistle-blowing policy and the minimum anti-corruption capacity that guide the implementation of anti-fraud and corruption mechanisms throughout the organisation.

During the financial year under review, the Risk Management Unit published fraud prevention articles, newsletters and messages using internal communication platforms.

Through these interventions, the use of the Public Service National Anti-Corruption Hotline: 0800 701 701 was encouraged. The organisation also tracked the implementation of the ethics framework and reported to management and the ARC quarterly.

The GCIS had an approved Business Management Continuity Policy and a Business Continuity Plan for the 2016/17 financial period. These are designed to manage the continuity of GCIS business in the event of threats to operations and to plan how the impact of disruption can be minimised. They are reviewed, approved and implemented annually.

Four quarterly impact assessment reports were compiled and presented to the management and ARCs for approval. There were no threats to the continuity of the business of the department that were detected and recorded during the reporting period. The Facilities Management ensured the organisation complied with the requirement for regular fire drills which are meant to ensure safety of human life, in the event of a disaster, threat or event occurring.

4. MINIMISING CONFLICT OF INTEREST

In compliance with PSR and the DPSA request, all senior managers disclosed their financial interests for 2016/17 online. The department has also extended the requirement to disclose financial interests annually to employees on salary levels 12 and below, and these disclosures are analysed. All panel members of recruitment interviews declared their interests to ensure that there was no conflict of interest when making recruitment decisions.

5. CODE OF CONDUCT

To promote and maintain a high standard of professional ethics in the department, employees are expected to adhere to the Code of Conduct for the Public Service. The code is from time to time circulated to all staff members and is also easily accessible from the intranet. New employees are inducted on the code and an explanatory manual has been circulated among existing employees. “Contravening any prescribed Code of Conduct for the Public Service” is listed as one of the acts of misconduct in the departmental Disciplinary Code and Procedure. This code has a clear disciplinary process based on the seriousness of the contravention.

6. HEALTH SAFETY AND ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES

The GCIS has a health and safety programme in place. The ADG appointed the Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) Committee in writing for the 2016/17 financial year and some of their duties include OHS inspections and conducting evacuation drills.

Report of the Auditor-General to Parliament on vote no. 46: Government Communication and Information System.

Report on the audit of the financial statements

Opinion

1. I have audited the financial statements of the Government Communication and Information System on pages 115 to 168, which comprise the appropriation statement, statement of financial position as at 31 March 2017, and the statement of financial performance, statement of changes in net asset and cash flow statement for the year then ended, as well as the notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.
2. In my opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Government Communication and Information System as at 31 March 2017, and its financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with modified cash standard (MCS) and the requirements of the Public Finance Management Act of South Africa, 1999 (Act No. 1 of 1999) (PFMA).

Basis for opinion

3. I conducted my audit in accordance with the International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). My responsibilities under those standards are further described in the auditor-general's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of my report.
4. I am independent of the Government Communication and Information Systems in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of ethics for professional accountants (IESBA code) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to my audit in South Africa. I have fulfilled my other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the IESBA code.
5. I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion.

Other matters

6. I draw attention to the matter below. My opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.
7. The supplementary information set out on pages 169 to 181 does not form part of the financial statements and is presented as additional information. I have not audited these schedules and, accordingly, I do not express an opinion thereon.

Accounting Officer's responsibility for the financial statement

8. The accounting officer is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Modified Cash Basis Standard (MCS) and the requirements of the Public Finance Management Act of South Africa, 1999 (Act No. 1 of 1999) (PFMA) and for such internal control as the accounting officer determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.
9. In preparing the financial statements, the accounting officer is responsible for assessing the Government Communication and Information System's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters relating to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless there is an intention either to liquidate the department or to cease operations, or has there is no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor-General's responsibilities for the audit of the separate financial statements

10. My objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes my opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

11.A further description of my responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is included in the annexure to the auditor's report.

Report on the audit of the annual performance report

Introduction and scope

12.In accordance with the Public Audit Act of South Africa, 2004 (Act No. 25 of 2004) (PAA) and the general notice issued in terms thereof I have a responsibility to report material findings on the reported performance information against predetermined objectives for selected programmes presented in the annual performance report. I performed procedures to identify findings but not to gather evidence to express assurance.

13.My procedures address the reported performance information, which must be based on the approved performance planning documents of the Government Communication and Information Systems. I have not evaluated the completeness and appropriateness of the performance indicators included in the planning documents. My procedures also did not extend to any disclosures or assertions relating to planned performance strategies and information in respect of future periods that may be included as part of the reported performance information. Accordingly, my findings do not extend to these matters.

14.I evaluated the usefulness and reliability of the reported performance information in accordance with the criteria developed from the performance management and reporting framework, as defined in the general notice, for the following selected programmes presented in the annual performance report of the Government Communication and Information System for the year ended 31 March 2017:

Programmes	Pages in the annual performance report
Programme 2: Content Dissemination and Processing	38 – 51
Programme 3: Intergovernmental Coordination and Stakeholder Management	52 – 60

15.I performed procedures to determine whether the reported performance information was properly presented and whether performance was consistent with the approved performance planning documents. I performed further procedures to determine whether the indicators and related targets were measurable and relevant, and assessed the reliability of the reported performance information to determine whether it was valid, accurate and complete.

16.I did not identify any material findings on the usefulness and reliability of the reported performance information for the following programmes:

- Programme 2: Content Dissemination and Processing.
- Programme 3: Intergovernmental Coordination and Stakeholder Management.

Report on audit of compliance with legislation

Introduction and scope

17.In accordance with the PAA and the general notice issued in terms thereof I have a responsibility to report material findings on the compliance of the Government Communication and Information Systems with specific matters in key legislation. I performed procedures to identify findings but not to gather evidence to express assurance.

18.I did not identify any material findings in respect of the compliance criteria for the applicable subject matters.

Other information

19.The accounting officer is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report. The other information does not include the financial statements, the auditor's report thereon and those selected programmes presented in the annual performance report that have been specifically reported on in the auditor's report.

20.My opinion on the financial statements and findings on the reported performance information and compliance with legislation do not cover the other information and I do not express an audit opinion or any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

21.In connection with my audit, my responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements and the selected programmes presented in the annual performance report, or my knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work I have performed on the other information obtained prior to the date of this auditor's report, I conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, I am required to report that fact.

Internal control deficiencies

22.I considered internal control relevant to my audit of the financial statements, reported performance information and compliance with applicable legislation; however, my objective was not to express any form of assurance thereon. I did not identify any significant deficiencies in the internal controls.

Auditor-General

Pretoria
31 July 2017

Annexure – Auditor-General's responsibility for the audit

1. As part of an audit in accordance with the ISAs, I exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout my audit of the separate financial statements, and the procedures performed on reported performance information for selected programmes and on the Constitutional Institution's compliance with respect to the selected subject matters.

Financial statements

2. In addition to my responsibility for the audit of the separate financial statements as described in the auditor's report, I also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the separate financial statements whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the constitutional institution's internal control.
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the accounting officer [insert other].
- conclude on the appropriateness of the accounting officer use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements. I also conclude, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Government Communication and Information System ability to continue as a going concern. If I conclude that a material uncertainty exists, I am required to draw attention in my auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements about the material uncertainty or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify the opinion on the financial statements. My conclusions are based on the information available to me at the date of the auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause a constitutional institution to cease to continue as a going concern.

evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

- obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the department's activities to express an opinion on the financial statements. I am responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit. I remain solely responsible for my audit opinion.

Communication with those charged with governance

3. I communicate with the accounting officer regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that I identify during my audit.
4. I also confirm to the accounting officer that I have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and communicate all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to have a bearing on my independence and here applicable, related safeguards.
