MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT: MUNICIPAL FINANCE MANAGEMENT BILL, 2002

Introduction

Local government financial management is currently contained in section 10G of the Local Government Transition Act, 1993 (Act No. 209 of 1993) (LGTA). This section which regulated municipal finances during the transitional phase will be replaced by the Bill. As such the Bill is a critical element in the final transformation of local government that is currently underway within the policy framework established by the White Paper on Local Government and the various pieces of legislation that emanated from the White Paper.

Section 216 of the Constitution envisages uniform treasury norms and standards for all spheres of government. Norms and standards for financial management in the national and provincial spheres of government were provided by way of the Public Finance Management Act, 1999 (Act No. 1 of 1999), which was implemented on 1 April 2000. The Municipal Finance Management Bill will provide uniform treasury norms and standards for the local sphere of government.

Content

The purpose of the Bill is fivefold, namely to—

- regulate municipal financial management;
- set requirements for the efficient and effective management of the revenue, expenditure, assets and liabilities of municipalities and municipal entities;
- define responsibilities with regard to municipal financial management;
- determine a financial management governance framework for municipal entities; and
- put in place a municipal borrowing framework.

The Bill covers the following areas:

Chapter 1 provides definitions of key terms and concepts used in the Bill, outlines the scope of the legislation, and determines the conditions under which amendments to the legislation may be made.

Chapter 2 deals with the intergovernmental aspects of local government financial management. It defines the major relationships between the different spheres of government as they pertain to municipal financial management. The provisions in this chapter enable national and provincial government to monitor and regulate local government finances, to prescribe relevant norms and standards for municipalities and to delegate powers.

Chapter 3 sets out conditions for municipal revenue and investments. It requires each municipality to establish bank accounts into which all money received by municipalities must be paid. The municipal manager is made accountable for these accounts and must ensure compliance with the relevant requirements in the legislation. Various procedures are outlined for the control, withdrawal and investment of funds. The National Treasury is granted powers to prescribe a framework for municipal cash management and the management of investments by municipalities.

Chapter 4 defines a process of annual budgeting for municipalities (within a framework of multi-year budgeting), including provisions for regular reporting to their councils and the national and provincial governments. The guiding principle is that municipalities will assume responsibility for detailed budgeting, within a nationally determined macro-economic framework. Provision is made for budget adjustments and for the shifting of funds between budget votes in the course of a municipality's financial year, subject to certain reporting requirements.

Limitations based on the previous year's budget are placed on municipalities' expenditures in the event of them not having approved their budgets. The provisions regarding budgets and budgeting aim to establish a clear link between the assignment of functions to municipalities and the allocation of resources to such bodies. Councils are made ultimately responsible for approving budgets, within the framework set for intergovernmental relations around financial management in the local sphere of government.

Chapter 5 deals with the borrowing of money by municipalities. It limits short-term borrowing to bridging operating cash shortfalls or to bridge capital requirements, on the basis of anticipated income streams, grants or long-term debt in waiting. It requires that short-term debt be paid off annually. Long-term borrowing is limited to funding of capital investment. It also sets requirements for the authorisation of municipal debt, without national or provincial approval and spells out the conditions for providing security. The chapter rules out guarantees of municipal debt by national and provincial governments, other than what is provided for in the Public Finance Management Act, 1999. Disclosure requirements for the borrowing of money by a municipality are also set out.

Chapter 6 deals with the councillors responsible for financial matters. It states that the councillor responsible for financial matters must be the mayor, executive mayor or a councillor designated by the executive mayor or council, depending on the structure of the municipality. It prohibits the councillor for financial matters from interfering in the financial management responsibilities assigned to the municipal manager or chief financial officer. The chapter defines the responsibilities of the councillor responsible for financial matters to include overseeing expenditures and revenue collection, preventing overspending of a budget or vote, and reporting regularly on the financial affairs of the municipality to the council.

Chapter 7 defines the responsibilities of officials involved in municipalities' financial management. The municipal manager is designated as a municipality's municipal manager, with some general and specific responsibilities related to developing and maintaining effective, efficient and transparent systems of financial and risk management and internal control, budget and expenditure control, the control of assets and liabilities, and reporting. Written employment contracts and performance standards are required for the municipal manager. Part 2 of the Chapter sets out conditions for the delegation of powers and duties by municipal managers to other officials and outlines the implications this has for such other officials.

Chapter 8 requires that municipalities establish Treasury and Budget Offices, under control of a chief financial officer who, in turn, are enabled to delegate some specific responsibilities to officials who report to the chief financial officer.

Chapter 9 not only allows municipalities to retain or establish a variety of municipal entities in terms of other relevant legislation, but also makes it possible for statutory and regulatory limitations and requirements to be imposed on such entities. These conditions concern accounting, auditing, asset transfers, debt management, governance, reporting and disclosure, decision-making, mandates and operational scope, planning and budgeting and investments. Every municipal entity is required to have an accounting authority who will be accountable for the execution of such conditions.

Chapter 10 outlines requirements and procedures for the preparation, auditing and processing of annual financial statements of both municipalities and municipal entities. The municipal manager must, in accordance with generally recognised accounting practice, ensure that annual financial statements are issued and submitted to the Auditor-General and the national and relevant provincial Treasury. Copies of the relevant statements, the audit report and particulars of corrective action must be submitted to the provincial legislatures which will deal with these statements in accordance with their constitutional powers. Stringent conditions are set to ensure compliance by all relevant parties with these requirements.

Chapter 11 defines the approach and procedures to be followed in the event of financial emergencies within the local sphere. It provides for a Municipal Financial Emergency Authority (MFEA) to oversee the administration of municipalities in a financial emergency, with a view to normalising the financial affairs of such municipalities. The chapter further specifies procedures for the appointment of a Chief Executive Officer (CEO) for the MFEA by the Minister for Provincial and Local Government, for the declaration, management and termination of a financial emergency, for a recovery plan in a municipality as well as for extraordinary measures should the measures taken in terms of the recovery plan be insufficient. It gives specific powers to the courts in this regard and also outlines the powers and duties of the CEO of MFEA and of administrators of municipalities declared to be in a financial emergency. Specific provision is made for steps related to financial emergencies in cases where the boundaries of the affected municipalities have been re-demarcated in terms of the Municipal Demarcation Act.

Chapter 12 deals with a number of general treasury matters. These are the assignment of powers to the National Treasury to make regulations or issue instructions or guidelines relevant to the Act or specific aspects of municipal financial management in general and for borrowing by municipalities or municipal entities. Provisions are also set for the creation of audit committees.

Chapter 13 is concerned with financial misconduct within municipalities. It defines the concept of financial misconduct with reference to the various relevant clauses in other chapters of the Bill, and relevant to municipal officials as well as the accounting authorities and officials of municipal entities. A legal regime is provided for disciplinary proceedings and the Minister of Finance is empowered to make regulations prescribing procedures in this regard. Part 2 of the Chapter provides for criminal proceedings against municipal managers, accounting authorities and officials.

Chapter 14 provides for miscellaneous aspects. It limits liability in respect of anything done in good faith in terms of the legislation, allows the Minister to exempt municipalities and municipal entities from specific provisions of the legislation, and sets out transitional arrangements for the phasing in of the legislation.

Conclusion

The legislative reform and transformation framework as articulated in the White Paper on Local Government is incomplete without a firm foundation for financial management reforms. The Local Government: Municipal Finance Management Bill provides such a foundation for orderly and sound financial management principles and practices in the local sphere of government.

Consultation

Drafting of the Bill coincided with an extensive consultation process which included workshops across the country, discussions with stakeholders and publication of the draft Bill for public comment in terms of section 154(2) of the Constitution.

Parliamentary procedure

The State Law Advisers and the National Treasury are of the opinion that this Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established by section 75 of the Constitution since it contains no provision to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies.
